

Beginning Beekeeping

Considering your own backyard beehive but not sure where to start? Or simply want to learn about and experience the dynamic of an active hive?

Honeybees are wonderful pollinators and a key contributor to our food production system. Plus, they provide us with delicious, sweet honey! Come learn about these magnificent creatures and how to start your own hive:

What Beginning Beekeeping

When Sat., June 8, 2019
10:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m.

Where The Nest Box
1205 Church Ave.
San Martin, CA

How Much $100

This course is an intimate beginners' course open to only four participants. It will cover the basics of beekeeping, including the anatomy of a beehive, the dynamic of the honeybee colony, how honey is made, and how to harvest honey.

An organic lunch with a honey dessert will be provided! Please notify us upon reservation if you are vegetarian, vegan, or have any dietary restrictions.

All equipment will be provided, but please wear lightweight and light-colored clothing with full pant legs. Please do not wear heavy fragrances.

Reserve your spot by email to info@thenestbox.net or call Stephanie with The Nest Box at 669-241-2308. Non-refundable payment in full is required at time of reservation.

www.thenestbox.net